The choir of the church rendered excellent music during the entertainment.

MR. STIRLING, student missionary of the Presbyterian church at Beaver Lake, was in town on Wednesday. The fires last fall caused great destruction and hardship on the east side of the lake. At the Dominion convention of the W. C. T. U., held in Quebec on the 10th of last month, the "Prize Banner" was awarded to the North-West Territories for the largest increase of members during the year. The membership last year was 89, this year 201. The banner is a very beautiful piece of decorative art, and may be seen at the residence of Mrs. J. McDonald, in whose keeping it will remain for the year.

On Monday afternoon the dwelling on H. Goodridge's farm on the road to Stony Plain, was noticed to be on fire by a passer by. By great exertions the fire, which was confined to the interior of the building, was subdued and the building saved though badly damaged inside. The occupant of the house was absent when the fire occurred, and it is thought that the fire must have started from a match or spark accidentally falling through a crack in the floor. The damage will amount to about forty dollars. It was insured in the Lancashire.

A LAD named Barrett Hillier, nephew of Thos. Hillier of Stony Plain, arrived from Grafton, North Dakota, on Monday's train. He is about ten years of age, left home on Monday, Nov. 25th, without a cent in his pocket and reached Edmonton in the same financial condition, but looking hearty, evidently having fared all right on the road. He stopped in Winnipeg three days, and then resumed his journey. He did not know that his uncle lived at South Edmonton, but he knew that his father had visited the Edmonton district and bought land here, and he knew that Pastor A. MacDonald, of the Baptist church, resided here. It appears that he made his way by stating that he was going to visit Pastor MacDonald. He is at present being cared for by his uncle and his parents have been communicated with. It is supposed to be a case of running away from school.

CHURCH OPENING.

A tea meeting in connection with the opening of Sturgeon river Methodist church took place on Tuesday evening. The church was crowded and a large number of people from town attended. Refreshments, abundant in quantity and excellent in quality provided by the ladies were served at 7.30. When that important matter had been properly disposed of the chair was taken by D. Maloney, M. L. A. A hymn was sung, and the chairman made a few suitable opening remarks. Rev. G. W. Dean then gave his lecture, "A trip through the Rockies," illustrated by stereoscopic views the slides being managed by Mr. Mathers. At the conclusion of the lecture a number of votes of thanks were proposed which gave opportunity for numerous pleasantries. A quilt on which were inscribed 140 names, (the owner of each name paying for the privilege) was then offered at auction and was bid up to thirteen dollars. The proceeds of the quilt were the result of the exertions of several of the ladies of the congregation. The proceedings were concluded by the singing of "God Save the Queen." The church is of frame, plastered inside and well finished. It is neat and complete and a credit to the congregation and the builders.

SURVEYS.

E. M. Hubbell, D. L. S., left for Ottawa on Tuesday's train after spending a very busy summer in the Edmonton district. He left Ottawa on May 9th, for Edmonton on his first work was the sub-division of the western part of township 49, range 23, seven miles east of Leduc. He then surveyed the Stony Plain trail from Edmonton to the eastern edge of the Indian reserve. His next work was a re-survey of the correction line between townships 44 and 45, in ranges 19, 20, 21 and 22 across the Beaver Hills. A number of errors were corrected and the line will be made a leading trail. He next made a re-survey of the southeastern part of township 53, range 22, in the Beaver Hills. He then surveyed Koney Island in Cooking lake; then township 40, range 28, which includes the southern end of Gull lake west of Lacombe and is very heavily timbered. He then traversed the north end of Beaver lake where the shore line had changed owing to the lowering of the lake. He then sub-divided township 55, range 12, on the Saskatchewan at St. Paul's mission, and the north part of township 54, range 12, on the Vermilion. He was driven away from this work by a prairie fire which nearly burned the camp. He next surveyed the Hay lakes trail from South Edmonton to Hay lakes, a distance of 32 miles. He then went to Ponoka and traversed part of the Battle river and did some work on the 11th correction line, when his operations were stopped by cold weather. This work was done with a staff of ten men and necessitated removals aggregating 800 miles of travel besides travelling done while at work.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, DECEMBER 27th, 1896

EDMONTON AND NORTH.
The first instalment of Casper W. Whitney's account of his trip to the Barren Grounds, appearing in the Christmas number of Harper's, only covers the ground as far as Lac la Biche. The style is racy and fairly accurate and the illustrations numerous. The plate, "Trading in the Hudson's Bay Company's old store at Edmonton," showing mounted policeman, white settler and Indians, is very good. He makes a comparison between the duties and services of the frontier soldiers of the United States and the Canadian mounted police, which is very favorable to the latter as well as very fair. The Queen's hotel comes in for compliments that could not be bought in pages of Harper's, and that in their ordinary advertising columns would cost hundreds of dollars. The railway gets a slap, on account of its slow time, and Edmonton business men are given a dig about late opening in the morning. He had doubts about the agricultural capabilities of the Edmonton district, on that subject he says: "Edmonton may in time develop the oasis upon which it is built between the arid plains immediately to the south and the great lone land to the north, into something notably agricultural; but for many years the town will be as it is to-day, the gateway of the well nigh boundless fur producing country to the north and the outlet for the numberless 'packs' gathered by the great Hudson's Bay Company." Mr. Whitney's mistake is a very natural one. He takes for granted that the railway struck for a fertile spot, and does not know that the "spot" is merely the point of intersection of a fertile region over 500 miles in length, from east to west. He gives a very clear and appreciative account of the business of the Hudson's Bay Company in the west and north. This series of articles on Edmonton to the region tributary to it by one of the leading writers in the United States appearing in its leading literary publication cannot fail to be of value to this place.

A WOOLLEN MILL.
The possibility of a profitable woollen mill in this part of the Northwest is one that might profitably engage the attention of the owners of some of the small Ontario mills which have been crowded out by hard times and the competition of the larger institutions. Northern Alberta is now in very much the same condition as was Ontario in the days when those little woollen mills were profitable. There is a large population whom necessity compels, and inclination impels, to wear strong and serviceable woollen clothing, such as the great mills do not now manufacture. They keep a considerable number of sheep which sheep produce eight or ten thousand pounds of wool during the season, for which there is as yet, very poor sale. If the farmer could turn the wool of his sheep into serviceable clothing for his family, and blankets for his household, he could and would very quickly increase the number of his sheep, as at present there is no encouragement for him to do. Last summer wool was bought at 5c. to 7c. a pound. Many farmers send their wool to the mill at Midnapore south of Calgary to be made up into cloth, rather than sell at the low prices offered. Last fall a number of farmers clubbed together to send about 2,000 pounds of wool to the mill at Rapid City to be made into cloth, as that mill offered better terms than the Midnapore mill, but the C. P. R. local rate of 3c. a pound on the wool to Rapid City effectually squelched the project. The wool was shipped to the Midnapore mill at a rate of something over a cent a pound, for 210 miles. Of course return freight had to be paid on the cloth. These freight rates are distinctly against wool growing now, but they would be favorable rather than the contrary to the profitable working of a mill here. In this era of low prices, the more of what the farmer needs that he can produce himself the better he is off, and in this country of cold winters the cost of woollen clothing and bedding for a large family is not the least of the household expenses.

Prince Albert Advocate: Before Sergt. Keenan left Duck Lake for Prince Albert the citizens of that place gave him a banquet, attended by all the prominent people of the vicinity, thus showing their appreciation for his past services and their sympathy for him in his unjust punishment.

THE MANCHESTER HOUSE
Is one of the recognized institutions of Edmonton. It was established in 1886 by the present proprietor, W. Johnstone Walker, who continued in a successful and constantly increasing business until December of last year. At that time Mr. Walker's business interests in England and South Africa required his personal attention; he therefore wound up his business here until he should return. He opened up again about the first of October last and with a fresh stock is now competing more vigorously than ever for a share of the dry goods trade of Edmonton and district. The establishment of stores limited to only one line of goods marks an important point in the commercial progress of any town. If such stores are successful it proves that there is a large amount of business to be done in their line, and so proves the commercial importance of the place. And when a business man can find sufficient employment for his capital in only one line of trade and confines his attention to that line it is generally admitted that he can both buy and sell better in that line than if he divided his capital and attention over a number of lines. The larger the business the smaller the margin which the storekeeper requires in order to make a profit. Therefore the lowest prices prevail where the largest business is done and the widest range of choice of goods exists. Mr. Walker has always worked on the cash principle. Having ample capital he is enabled to buy for cash in whatever market he may choose, and having business connections in Manchester, England, has always been able to import direct a large part of his goods, saving all middlemen's profits. Since commencing business he has made three trips to the Old Country to make his own selections and arrange for future shipments. After eight years experience in buying for cash and selling partly on credit Mr. Walker came to the conclusion that if goods were to be sold on the close margin that the present times demand all possible risks must be cut off. Since re-opening in October he has therefore decided to sell for cash only, as being the fairest system to everyone, and the one yielding the largest profit on the smallest margin. With a well established business, ample capital, direct English connections, strictly cash sales and giving attention only to dry goods and fancy goods, the Manchester House is one of Edmonton's strongest attractions in drawing business to this point.

THROUGH YELLOWHEAD PASS.
Forest and Stream, of New York, in its number of Nov. 30th, contains the following account of game in the Rocky Mountains, written by Geo. Patches, license inspector here.
I was one of a party prospecting for mica through the Yellowhead Pass, Canada, by pack trail for five months last summer. An account of the hunting met with in that unfrequented place would probably not be a surprise.
From the time of crossing the Pembina river one enters upon the chief moose and elk country now left in northwestern Canada, especially between the headwaters of the Brazeau and McLeod rivers. Bear are frequent along the trail. Passing through the White Mud, we enter upon the foothills where caribou and deer are found, and rapidly approach the Jasper House, the eastern entrance to the pass, an old Hudson's Bay post, now occupied by a free trader. The mountains around the Jasper House abound in sheep and goats. The Roche Miette, Jack's Rock, Stony river, and the mountains opposite Fiddle depot on the north side of the Athabasca river are the best for sheep and goats. The usual method of hunting is to wait until they come down to the salt licks and then get above them; owing to the formation of the rock the animals are forced to come up within a few rods of the hunter and present good chances for a shot. One of our party who was with me, above one of the licks, killed a goat with an ounce of BB. from a shotgun. Near the Henry House there is also another good place for sheep, but that is as far as they are found west. On a back trail near the Mt-at-in river caribou are plentiful.
Our party crossed the divide on the old government railroad survey pack trail, and a place called Buck or Cowling lake is particularly good for bear, caribou, goat, porcupine and other small game, fur-bearing animals such as marten, beaver and lynx also being plentiful. Near the Yellowhead Cache is a place worthily named Swift Current, where bears are so plentiful that the Rocky Mountain Iroquois snare them without trouble, grizzlies being the only bear that will not be readily caught. The mountain Indians never shoot at a grizzly unless they are above it, and if it charges they always wait and give him the final shot at close quarters. I have seen numbers of grizzly hides burnt with powder, showing how close they get. John Moberly and Isadore are notable among the Iroquois for this, and I understand this is done with a .44 Winchester carbine. These men are particular about their ammunition, and will only use Winchester or U. M. C., rejecting that made in Canada; rightly, too, for it is unreliable in the extreme. Near the Tete Jaune or Yellowhead Cache on the Fraser river the grizzlies have their home, being rarely disturbed by the few Indians who penetrate so far west.
The salmon run arrived at the Cache on Aug. 22. On our return we met at the Roche Miette Mr. Loring, the energetic field naturalist of the biological department, Washington, with Dan Noyes as guide. He was collecting specimens of birds and animals, also taking notes of their various habits. When hunting for sheep above the lick he came across a large black bear, which he killed and prepared while we were there. I informed him of the large grouse found in the recesses of the mountains, it being as large or larger than a domestic hen, also of the mountain sniffer or whistler found about timber line, of which he intends obtaining specimens.

Unfortunately for this grand game preserve gold indications have been found, and if ever they are proven of value they will cause numbers to come in prospecting and mining, and drive the game out.
Anyone intending to visit this part hunting I strongly advise to obtain an Indian lodge, it being easily transported and every way superior to any tent for comfort, and also a portable canvas boat for crossing rivers; the one used by our party was an Osgoode; while easily packed on a horse it could be entirely satisfactory under many severe trials.

THE HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY
INCORPORATED 1670,
Is not, as may be supposed, an antiquated and fossilised institution, but a live, modern, up-to-date business enterprise, placing two and a quarter centuries' experience at the service of the public.
Our stock comprises:
Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots & Shoes
Groceries and Provisions,
Wines, Spirits and Cigars,
Crockery and Glassware.

Of these we carry a complete and varied assortment, carefully selected, to cover all known and anticipated requirements of the district, and besides we are always prepared, through our wide-spread connections and exceptional facilities, to place any unusual order to the best advantage.
The advantages we offer are:
We import direct—we buy first hand, almost invariably from the manufacturers, and pay cash for all our purchases.
We renew often—our goods are always fresh, seasonable, and up to date.
We secure the lowest freight rates on all we import, as we always handle carloads when desirable.
We have no accumulation of old stocks to palm off on the unsuspecting—we have less old goods on our shelves than will be found in any hap-hazard and unsystematic store.
Our expenses are low and are carefully proportioned to our business.
Our margin of profit is very low and carefully adjusted—we never price our goods at what they will stand but at the lowest figures at which we can afford to sell them.
We are therefore doing business on the best business principles and under the most advantageous conditions and place these advantages at the service of our customers. Our effort is not merely to sell our goods but to satisfy purchasers and give them the best value obtainable.
Special attention is given to orders by mail. When inconvenient to make your purchases personally, write us, giving a full description of goods wanted, and prompt delivery will be made in accordance with your instructions. You will effect as good a bargain thus as you would personally. Cash should accompany all orders for shipment by mail, but express parcels may be C. O. D.

SCHOOL MEETING.

A meeting of the trustees of Edmonton public school was held on Tuesday evening. After the reading of the minutes a complaint of Mrs. O. H. Bush that her son Herbert had on one occasion been too severely punished and on another occasion had been refused admission to the school unless he submitted to a whipping which she had instructed him not to take. Mrs. Bush intimated that she would take legal proceedings to compel the trustees to admit her son to the school without his submitting to the punishment prescribed by the teacher. Mrs. Bush was heard at considerable length and the evidence of Miss Rogers, teacher of the department which Master Bush attended, was also taken. Mrs. Bush stated that the state of her son's health was such that a whipping would be seriously injurious to him.

Bellamy—Lauder moved that the action of the teacher in regard to Master Bush be upheld. Carried.

Bellamy—Lauder moved that Mrs. Bush be notified that on production of a medical certificate that the state of her son's health was such as to render him unfit to stand corporal punishment, he be admitted to the school without such punishment. Carried.

The following accounts were passed:

Salaries.
K. W. McKenzie,	$100.00
E. J. Wellbourn,	66.66
Miss Taylor,	50.00
Miss Rogers,	50.00
Miss Martin,	15.00
Mr. Wylie,	22.50
St. Geo. Jellitt,	12.50
E. Acton, water,	1.50
A. D. Osborne, rent,	10.00
Hess Bros., cleaning pipes,	2.95

Cameron—Lauder. That Mr. Bellamy be empowered to arrange for keeping up fire in the new school building from the time the contractors leave it until school opens in it.

Cameron—Bellamy. That an additional expenditure of $19 be allowed for an extra finish of the blackboards.

Cameron—Lauder. That A. G. Randall be auditor for the year.

Bellamy—Lauder. That while the board is well pleased with the scholastic classes they are not in a position to re-engage Miss Martin for the remainder of the year.

WETASKIWIN.

We have had just sufficient snow to make roads good.

A fair quantity of grain is now coming in, but many farmers have not yet threshed.

It is reported that Mr. Lewis, of Lewisville, has sold his homestead to Mr. Slaughter, of Millet, who will probably move down there in the spring, and intends putting up a grist mill there.

The firm of Wm. MacDonnell & Co., closed their Wetaskiwin store on Saturday evening, after a clearing out sale lasting thirty days. Mr. Jacobs, the late manager, will remain in town during the winter.

Messrs. Miquelon and Clink have commenced dressing lumber in town, having brought a portable engine into town.

John Willows and Miss Yeoman were married here on Wednesday last.

Dec. 2nd, 1895.

GENERAL NEWS.

The writ for Cardwell is ordered to be issued. The date of nomination is fixed for Dec. 17, and polling for the 24th.

Writs for Montreal Centre and Jacques Cartier will be issued on Monday, and polling will take place before New Year's day. The elections in West Huron and Charlevoix are not expected to take place until January.

Free Press: Bishop Grouard of Athabasca and Mackenzie river diocese, is visiting at St. Boniface. In an interview he gives an interesting account of religious and educational work among the northern natives.

An Ottawa telegram says: The minister of the interior has authorized the issue of yearly permits to settlers in the Northwest to mine a certain quantity of coal for domestic purposes only upon payment in advance of a royalty of twenty cents per ton for anthracite coal, fifteen cents per ton for bituminous coal and ten cents per ton for lignite coal. The regulation takes effect Jan. 1st.

Capt. A. R. Cuthbert, of the Canadian mounted police, has arrived in San Francisco from British Columbia. In an interview Capt. Cuthbert said: "Canada is not establishing posts on the frontier in connection with the boundary dispute. The sending of a mounted police to Fort Cadahy, which is near the Canadian border, had nothing whatever to do with the boundary question. For a long time the people around Fort Cadahy have been appealing to our authorities to send some police to that section, empowered to enforce order. The country is far from civilization, and the miners have been making and carrying out laws to suit themselves. These measures worked great injustice to everyone. In addition to this, smugglers have been un molested. There have been no forts established other than simple barracks for the small detachments which have been sent there."

The Free Press has an interview with Rev. M. W. Leibert, Moravian minister at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, on his return from a visit to the Moravian settlements at Bruderheim, east of Fort Saskatchewan and Bruderfeld, on the Indian reserve south of Edmonton. They are well pleased with the many advantages the country affords, but have had some discouragements. Some of them changed their first locations on account of their being unsuitable and many of them have had their crops injured by frost this year, owing to late sowing, which however, was unavoidable as they had to wait for seed grain. Mr. Leibert says there are well to do people who are ready to join them just as soon as they are convinced that the country is suitable for the building up of prosperous homes. He thinks that it is quite likely that the settlement will be doubled in size next year.

ASSESSMENT APPEALS.

The decisions of Judge Scott in the appeals from the town assessment were received last mail.

The income assessments against S. S. Taylor, H. C. Taylor, and P. Heimnick are struck out.

P. Heimnick's assessment on 31 feet of River lot A is reduced to $900, and the assessment on 25 feet of lot 16, river lot 6, is reduced to $500. Lot 86, block 1, is reduced to $175, and lot 13, block A, river lot 12 is reduced to $100.

The assessment of H. Robertson for income was struck out and reductions made in the assessment of a number of lots.

D. McArthur's assessment on lots on river lot 10, remains as fixed by the court of revision.

TOWN COUNCIL.

At last night's council meeting offers of the dedication of College avenue 66 feet wide across the front of the Methodist mission property at the brow of the hill and the extension of McLaughlin street to the river across the same property were accepted. It was decided that all purchases of hardware by the town be divided equally between the two hardware stores, except when tenders are asked. The application of Beck & Emery for a payment of $25 for passage of an amendment to the municipal ordinance was refused. Replies received from the department of railways and canals and from Hon. T. M. Daly regarding the Edmonton district railway were filed. An immigration advertising proposition from P. Heimnick & Co., was refused as well as the application of the Edmonton Herald to sell the town 5,000 copies of a special number. The license committee and Councillor Picard were appointed a committee to enforce the license by-law. The motion by Picard and Bellamy to offer a bonus of $5,000 for a 75 barrel roller mill, was lost. All accounts against the corporation are to be presented not later than Wednesday the 18th inst. Picard and Cameron moved that the petition for the granting of a bonus of $40,000 to the Edmonton street railway and the draft by-law for the same purpose be filed. By-law 59 respecting the storage of gun powder was passed. Cameron and Bellamy moved the adoption of the finance committee's report. A draft of $250 in favor of Mr. Jennings on account of Edmonton district railway charter was ordered to be issued on motion of Edmonson and Cameron.

TEA MEETING.

Parrish & Lindsay, of Brandon have the contract of supplying police cats at Prince Albert. The Times asserts that local men were required to deliver in sack and that Parrish & Lindsay are allowed to deliver in bulk.

An Ottawa dispatch of Nov. 28th says: Reports about a compromise between Greenway and the Ottawa government, and dated at Winnipeg, which fills the government press throughout the province just now, are said here to be largely manufactured and circulated by the Haggart faction to influence the elections of Cardwell and North Ontario.

There is a prospect of further trouble in Lowe township. Dissatisfaction prevails there owing to the cost of the recent military expedition being saddled on the municipality. The ratepayers will attempt to frustrate any move on the part of the new council to issue debentures for the cost of the recent expedition, which amounts to $4,000.

An Ottawa despatch of the 27th, says: Clarke Wallace may resign before twenty-four hours is over. He has row on with Haggart and Montague over North Ontario. Wallace says that McGillivray should come out for non-interference; if not, the Orangemen will support the Petron candidate, who is a Conservative and an Orangeman. Haggart says that Wallace has got to be whipped into line or kicked out.
